

jonathan sanchez

education

West Charlotte (N.C.) High School, 1991.
Yale University, BA in English, 1995.

awards

-- S.C. Fiction Project winner, 2005 (“Orion Sleeps Tonight”) and 2002 (“Cutlass Supreme”).
-- Lorian Hemingway Short Story Competition (“Heroin Story”), Third Place, 2003.
-- Piccolo Fiction Open, winner, 2000, 2001, 2005, 2006.
-- Expansion Arts Funds Grant, Coastal Community Foundation, 2004.
-- Lowcountry Quarterly Arts Grant for public reading series, 2002, 2003, and website, 2005

workshops and residencies

-- Writer-in-residence, Kerouac House, Orlando, Fla., summer 2003.
-- Spoleto USA, educationSpoleto, leader of Chamber Music writing workshop, 2003-06.
-- Gibbes Museum of Art. Poet-in-residence, 2001-02.
-- Writer-in-residence, Christian Family Y, 2001.
-- Also: Burke Community School, Pink House Afterschool Center, Creative Spark Center for the Arts, Union Carnegie Library, the Dart, Dorchester, Otranto and Main Charleston County Libraries, plus many schools.

other

-- Former reporter and photographer for The (Charleston) Post and Courier.
-- Freelance writer for Charleston City Paper and Charleston magazine.
-- Author of Bandit (2005), a collection of stories of the Cooper River Bridge Run, and Fools All of Us: stories of the white city (2000).
-- Mentor for senior theses, Academic Magnet H.S. (2003-7) and Charleston County School of the Arts, (2002-3).
-- Write of Summer, day camp, counselor-in-chief and co-founder, Charleston/Mt. Pleasant (2003-06) and Winter Park, Fla., 2004-06.
-- Judge for children’s poetry contests, including annual Post and Courier contest, 2003-06.

875 ashley ave. charleston, sc 29403
843.853.9768 jonathansanchez@aya.yale.edu
www.beingsanchez.com